The Irish News

Junior Multimedia Journalist
June 2023 - Present (3 years)
Belfast, Northern Ireland, United Kingdom

The Irish News is Northern Ireland's highest-circulation daily newspaper, covering politics, courts, sport, and culture across print and digital.

Drive the publication's video strategy across Instagram Reels, TikTok, and YouTube — from ideation and shooting to editing and publishing on daily deadlines.

Run digital desk shifts: curating the homepage, subediting copy, and scheduling social content across Facebook, X, TikTok, and Instagram.

Cover Northern Ireland's biggest ongoing stories including the Noah Donohoe inquest, the Natalie McNally murder trial, the Gerry Adams civil case, and major political developments around Casement Park.

Write headlines, social media captions, and Google Showcase summaries daily, compressing complex stories to strict character limits while maintaining clarity and SEO value.

Produce data visualisations and interactive HTML graphics for investigative and feature pieces.

Created Irish-language explainer videos with full subtitle formatting for a bilingual audience.
